

Values Examples- Correct the Scenario

Accountability

After Avery and her brother did their art on the kitchen table, their mom found a paint stain. When Avery was asked about it, she said it was all her brother's fault.

Attitude

Avery's parent asks her to do the dishes. Avery groans and says "but I don't want to".

Compassion

Avery's friend is injured and sitting out during recess. "Have fun reading your book." Avery says as she runs off.

Courage

Avery is scared to sing a solo in the musical, so she tells herself "It wouldn't be any fun anyway" and doesn't audition.

Courtesy

At a dinner where someone else is paying, Avery orders the most expensive plate on the menu.

Effort

Since Art class isn't graded, Avery doesn't try and gives her teacher pictures of stick figures.

Gratitude

Avery asked Santa for a new iPhone X, but Santa left her an old iPhone 3. Avery whines.

Honesty

Avery's mom said that she could watch TV when she finished her homework. She had to do homework in History, Spanish, and Math, but she only did their math homework then turned on the TV. Avery's mom asked "Did you do your homework?" to which Avery replied "Yes. Math was really hard."

Humility

After coming to her play, Avery's grandma said "Great job! That must have been a hard part to play and you did it very well." Avery says "It was easy because I'm a great actor."

Initiative

After lunch, Avery walks by a pile of someone's trash. She thinks "Someone else will take care of it".

Integrity

Values Examples- Correct the Scenario

A classmate brought in cupcakes for their birthday and left them on the back counter in the classroom. During recess, there is no one else in the room, so Avery thinks it's okay to sneak a cupcake.

Kindness

A classmate walks up next to Avery's lunch table and asks to sit at an open seat. Avery says no because it is reserved for her best friend.

Loyalty

At a playdate, Avery discusses how unreasonable she thinks her teachers are.

Patriotism

Avery plays with the zipper on her jacket during the Pledge of Allegiance.

Perseverance

Pull-ups are hard for Avery, so every time she is tested for the Presidential Award, she does one and drops down before trying the second.

Respect

When Avery gets to her friend's house, she runs past their friend's parent and starts playing as soon as she gets there.

Responsibility

Avery was supposed to bring snack for the whole class, but when she forgot, she excused herself by saying "How was I supposed to remember it was today?"

Reverence

Avery makes a joke and laughs at a troublesome event in History.

Sincerity

Avery recites the Pledge of Allegiance every day without thinking about what she's saying.

Sportsmanship

When someone on the opposite team trips, Avery uses the opportunity to pull their belt in capture the flag.

Unselfishness

When offered a cookie, Avery takes the largest one with the most chocolate chips.